STONE ARMOR PRESERVES NATURAL STONE FOR FUTURE GENERATIONS

Marble and other natural stone surfaces are well shielded from acid etching and discolouration by Stone Armor. This transparent, one-component coating creates a thin, long-lasting barrier without the need for complicated UV-cured solutions or mylar sheets. Because of its remarkable hardness, surface defence lasts for a long time with little effort.

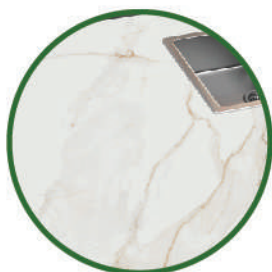

It is easy to apply and Stone Armor creates a very strong bond with stone surfaces. This UV-stable sealer can be applied over Stone Armor Primer or straight onto the stone. Because of its smooth conformance and preservation of the surface's natural appearance and texture, the coating is essentially undetectable once applied.

Stone Armor has two different finishes: matte and gloss, so you can get the style you want. While maintaining the stone's original, polished look and texture, the matte finish provides dependable protection.

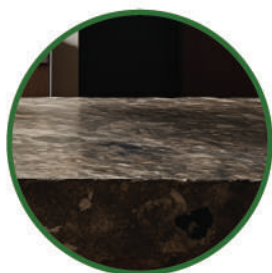

A high-performance sealer called Stone Armor was created to shield the surfaces of natural stone from acid etching and discolouration.
